swar lahri 2 cascading melodies

Following the huge success of Swar Lahri, Rāgānjali School of Music brings you yet another enchanting and mesmerizing evening of Hindustani classical music.

Featuring:

- Homage to legendary musicians
- Ragas of dawn, day, afternoon, and night
- Music from traditional semi-classical genres, including Qawali
- Celebration of music in nature
- Music from the devotion (Bhakti) movement - featuring saint-poets Meerabai, Kabirdas
- A variety of instruments including:
Sitar, Esraj, Guitar, Tabla, Dholak, Khol, Flute
- Instrumental ensembles representing traditional rāga music

Rāgānjali School of Music is dedicated to providing quality education and in-depth training in North Indian Classical Music in New England.

Rāgānjali for Anjali

All proceeds from this event will be donated to Camp Anjali 2011, celebrating a decade of creativity in children and a vision for an inclusive society.

Since 2001, every year, Camp Anjali observes a 5-day retreat bringing children with physical and mental disabilities and children from the mainstream to work together on a creative platform.
